PLUMSTEAD MATERIALS TO HOST 'QUARRY DAY' EVENT

On Saturday, May 6, 2006 Plumstead Materials of Doylestown, PA will be hosting their first 'Quarry Day' event. Company officials are labeling 'Quarry Day' as the first community outreach event to be held at this central Bucks County-based quarry operation. On May 6th, Plumstead Materials will be opening its doors to the residents of Plumstead Township and surrounding communities. Company officials hope this open house event will give local residents the opportunity to tour their quarry facility, talk to quarry personnel and regulators, discuss comments and concerns directly with company officials, as well as share in a relaxed setting of discussion and community fun. Catered continental-style food and beverages will be served.

This event will occur on Saturday, May 6, 2006 from 8:00 AM until 12:00 PM. 'Quarry Day' will be held at the Plumstead Materials Quarry facility, which is located at 5031 Point Pleasant Pike, Doylestown, PA 18901. The Plumstead Materials facility entrance lies just west of the intersection of Point Pleasant Pike and State Route 413, or Durham Road. Attendants will direct guests to designated parking areas within the quarry facility. A shuttle service will transport guests from parking areas to a reception area where food and beverages will be served and guests will be asked to register for the event. Once in the facility, guests may be shuttled to various stations within the quarry where they will observe full production Plant Operations. Quarry personnel and mining regulators will be on hand to discuss operation of the facility and to answer additional questions as necessary. All guests will receive free promotional items and tickets for the Plumstead Materials 'Quarry Day Raffle'. Guests will be asked to complete a Community Relations Survey, which the company hopes will give local residents the opportunity to participate in successful community-minded operation of Plumstead Materials.
